The burn ban is effective on the 10th of October but could be moved before if it rains in the region. Violations to the burn ban will result in a fine up to $500. Other burn bans have been issued for 90 days to Chambers and Liberty Counties.

Rep. Ana Hernandez reviews the 84th Legislative session

The featured speaker at Joe Riley’s North Channel Chamber luncheon was State Representative Ana Hernandez, who represents the 148th District in Texas. Her district covers part of Houston, Channelview, Galena Park, and Jacinto City. She serves on the House Committee on Judicary and Civil Jurisprudence, and on the House Committee on Revenue. She is currently serving her 3rd full term. Hernandez said that the leadership in this session led to a more friendly and cooperative atmosphere, and she thought much was accomplished.

The legislature approved a $280 billion budget, improved funding for schools, and added $1.5 billion for scholarships, including $3.5 million for Pre-K programs.

One of Hernandez’s highlights was a change in high school senior police, so that they can now pick a career path other than an education or college direction.

The gas tax will now be used for roads, instead of the general fund. Groves were instead of the general fund. Gun laws were passed, and only the best qualified for law enforcement.

Inadequate healthcare for citizens and workers is a pressing issue.

HISTORY OF HIGHLANDS ROTARY

On November 24, 1948, the Triple Creek Rotary Club chartered the Highlands Rotary Club. The first president was Chester Stasney.

While early details about the club have been lost, what is known is that the club was formed to bring together people in the community that had always been strong. In the absence of an incorporated government, the club often took a leadership role in the community. Business leaders of yesterday and today look to the organization for the responsible citizens, and many of their ideas have become a part of the fabric of the Club.

On November 10, 1949, the club celebrated its 50th anniversary with a banquet attended by 150 present and past Rotarians.

Fourth: The proliferation of international understanding, goodwill and peace through a world bettered by informed and enlightened citizenry, who work together to improve the human condition through a concern for the betterment of all humanity.

Inflation and Your Retirement Income Strategy

By Edward Jones

You might not think much about inflation. After all, it is something that we generally think about only when the news mentions a “high inflation rate.” And yet, inflation is an important consideration when you are planning your retirement income strategy.

Of course, no one can actually predict the future course of inflation. But it is important to consider inflation’s potential impact on your retirement income. Here are some things to consider:

- The Role of Inflation: Inflation can erode the purchasing power of your retirement savings. For example, if you expect to receive $100,000 a year in retirement and the inflation rate is 3%, your purchasing power will be much lower in the future.

- The Importance of Diversification: Diversification can help protect your retirement savings from the effects of inflation. For example, if you have a portfolio that includes both stocks and bonds, the impact of inflation will be mitigated because the returns on stocks and bonds are likely to be different.

- The Use of Inflation-Protected Securities: Inflation-protected securities, such as Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS), can help protect your retirement savings from the effects of inflation. These securities are designed to provide a return that is adjusted for inflation.

- The Role of Stocks: Stocks can also help protect your retirement savings from the effects of inflation. Stocks have historically provided higher returns than bonds, and they can help offset the effects of inflation.

- The Importance of Professional Advice: It is important to consult with a financial advisor to help you create a retirement income strategy that is tailored to your needs and objectives.

The importance of considering inflation when planning your retirement income strategy cannot be overstated. By taking the time to understand the potential impact of inflation, you can help ensure that you have the resources you need to enjoy a comfortable retirement.

Critics of such a strategy may argue that it is too conservative and may not provide enough income for a comfortable retirement. However, a well-constructed strategy can help ensure that you have the resources you need to enjoy a comfortable retirement.

Inflation can be a powerful force, and it is important to take it seriously when planning your retirement income strategy. By taking the time to understand the potential impact of inflation, you can help ensure that you have the resources you need to enjoy a comfortable retirement.

Additional information is available in the Edward Jones Connection, which is a quarterly publication designed to help you make informed decisions about your retirement income strategy.

Five Circuit delivers opinion concerning voter ID law

In the end, Texas realized that the heart of the issue was not the law itself, but rather the lack of an adequate state law to address the problem. Ultimately, the Fifth Circuit delivered an opinion that the Texas law was constitutional and not discriminatory.

Back when my pool and I were in our early twenties, we took a trip to a hot springs resort where the weather was too cold and unfamiliar for swimming. Of course, this was one of our first experiences that led to pack light and leave the “normal” clothes at home.

During our trip, we were greeted by beautiful pastel-colored buildings with white windows and shutters and trimmed and tasseled curtains. We could watch people whizzing by on bicycles with fresh fruit and baguettes for their journeys. As we walked around, we thought about how lucky we were to have such beautiful and warm surroundings.

When I was a child, my mother and father would take me to a local pool to swim and play. I remember spending hours in the pool and enjoying the refreshing water. As a child, I knew that the pool was a place of carefree enjoyment. I remember feeling the water sand and the sun on my skin as I enjoyed the pool's features. I was so content.

Unfortunately, the problems of our own day demand that we face them head-on. We must come to grips with the reality of global warming and the need for conservation. We must also confront the challenges of poverty and inequality and work together to find solutions.

In our on-going conversation, our goal is to foster a culture of knowledge and understanding. We believe that education and open dialogue are essential for a healthy democracy. We also believe that we must work together to create a future that is fair and just for all.

We live in an era where technology is constantly evolving. It is crucial that we stay informed about the latest developments in the field of technology. To this end, the Media and Library Department has created a new blog that will serve as a platform for sharing information and ideas.

The blog will cover a wide range of topics, from the latest advancements in technology to the implications of these advancements on society. We will feature articles written by experts in the field, as well as interviews with thought leaders and innovators.

We invite you to visit the blog and explore the content. We hope that you will find it informative and engaging. We also encourage you to leave comments and share your thoughts with us.

Thank you for your support of the Media and Library Department. We look forward to continuing our conversation about technology and its impact on our world.

Sightseeing While Sick

By Susan Huffman

The pool water was crystal clear and inviting. I couldn’t contain my excitement as I approached the poolside. The sun was shining brightly, and the warm breeze caressed my face, making me feel alive.

I dove into the pool, water splashing around me as I felt the coolness wash over me. The water felt refreshing and invigorating, and I knew that it would be the perfect way to relax.

As I swam, I enjoyed the beauty of the surroundings. The trees and plants that surrounded the pool were lush and green, providing a natural and serene atmosphere.

I continued to swim, feeling the water submerge me and allowing me to forget about the worries of the world. When I finally emerged, I felt rejuvenated and ready for whatever challenges lay ahead.

The pool was a sanctuary, a place where I could find peace and tranquility. It was a reminder of the beauty of nature and the importance of taking time for oneself.

As I left the pool, I felt grateful for the opportunity to experience this natural wonder. I knew that I would cherish the memories of this day forever.
OUT OF LINE
Several years ago, I was in conversation with a fellow from the local cemetery. I was on my cell phone talking with my very elderly mother. As we talked, I thought to myself, “With all I have to do, why am I going so slow?”
I looked in my side mirror, saw no one in coming, so I accelerated to pass the car in front of me. Then ever look once more. I had to do afterwards. As I was on my cell phone talking with my mother, I thought to myself, “With all I have to do, why am I going so slow?”

SAN JACINTO COLLEGE

New women’s basketball coach aims to maintain momentum

HOUSTON – New women’s basketball Head Coach Mike Madrid takes the helm at San Jacinto College hoping to maintain momentum from last year’s remarkable turnaround season.

The veteran coach comes to San Jacinto College after serving for two years as head coach of the Paris Junior College (PJC) women’s basketball program. San Jacinto College and Paris are in the same conference, so Madrid was familiar with San Jacinto College’s program.

“The team and coaching staff are excited for the opportunity to take the program to the next level,” Madrid commented. “I hope to step in and continue winning and to maintain that momentum.”

The 2014-15 season was arguably the most dramatic turnaround season in the history of San Jacinto College’s women’s basketball program. After a 3-27 record in 2013-14, the team finished last season with a 25-9 record, earned national ranking for the first time in the program’s history, and advanced to the semifinal round of the regional tournament.

Madrid has an impressive resume, having coached at either the high school or college level for 13 years. Before his two years at PJC, he served three years as assistant women’s basketball coach at Texas Woman’s University, where he helped the Pioneers win their first Lone Star Conference tournament championship in any sport as well as the 2014 NCAA South Central Region tournament. He began his coaching career at New Mexico’s Portales High School, helping the team gain his coaching career at New Mexico’s Portales High School, helping the team gain its regional title.

The 2014-15 season was Madrid’s third year with the team, which finished last season with a 25-9 record. The team advanced to the semifinal round of the regional tournament and earned national ranking for the first time in the program’s history.
