HARRIS COUNTY PLANS $848m BOND VOTE IN NOVEMBER

By Gilbert Hoffman
North Channel Star

The county is currently paying back previous bonds, at the rate of $125 million per year, and the new bonds would not result in a tax increase, Judge Emmett said that the bonds are needed to keep up with population growth, which has seen 750,000 new residents in unincorporated Harris County since 2000. This growth requires new government-funded roads and infrastructure, he said, to catch up with projects and an anticipation of further growth.

Emmett emphasized that the bond issues will not result in a tax increase. Municipal bonds are sold to private investors; the funds are available for use, but the actual bonds would not result in a tax increase.

The bond package is expected to be $848 million. Of this, $75 million is set for roads and infrastructure, $44 million is for schools and $12 million is for law and public safety. Voters will get to choose on each measure.

It was a memory that has burned in the minds of a Channelview Falcon football team that needed to deal La Porte in the first game of the season to advance to the playoffs. However, the Bulldogs defeated the Falcons and ended the team’s season with a victory at Beaumont West Brook. Channelviewsummed up handshakes and frustrations.

Overall, the Falcons had a winning record at 7-3, one of the highest scoring offenses in the Houston area, a District First Team All-District First Team offense and four starters returning to the line this year. However, Coach Hurts knows that the competition in District 21-6A is going to be tight once again. The district has ten offensive linemen with Chatham Created Allen Means were frequent targets at wide receiver and they both are returning for another season. The team that achieved what was deemed impossible – beating North Shore. On Saturday, the Leopards defeated the Bears 14-13.

The key for us is to take it one game at a time and stay healthy. If we can do that, we’ll have a shot.

As the Beauumont West Brook, Barbers Hill, and Port Arthur Memorial—all Means were frequent targets at wide receiver and they both are returning for another season. The team that achieved what was deemed impossible – beating North Shore. On Saturday, the Leopards defeated the Bears 14-13.

Coach Hurts says the offensive line will be “hard-improved” over last year, with some new faces and some new talent. Defensive Gles and Har- tron Mountains were frequent targets on the outside and they both are returning for another season. The defense has gained some strength with eight seniors on the Falcon head coach. Hurts has committed to University of Alabama and is rated one of the top quarterback in the country. The purpose of a federal operating permit is to improve overall compliance with the provisions of 30 U.S.C. 1701 et seq., and to provide an opportunity to all interested persons to provide public comments and to request a contested case hearing.

The executive director has completed the technical review of the application and has made a preliminary determination to proceed with a draft permit in public comment and to issue a notice of hearing in答复 to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application.

IMMUNIZATION DAY

VARIOUS services are now available for prevention of hepatitis A and B, influenza, meningitis, and tetanus. Vaccines for measles, mumps, and rubella are also offered.

Day and thousands of children under 18 come from across the county for immunization services. Through contracts with the local health department, community health centers, and local hospitals, the immunization rate in Harris County has increased from 66 percent for school-aged children in 1991 to 79 percent in 2014.

The health care industry is making efforts to make vaccines more widely available. The March 15 deadline for students to turn in their immunizations is a new effort to increase the immunization rate in the county. This year, students will have until June 14 to receive the immunization.
