Constable candidates hold forum at North Shore church

EAST HARRIS COUNTY – The crowded field of candidates for the Position of Harris County Pct. 3 Constable had some light shed on it last Saturday, when five of the candidates met at the North Shore Community Fellowship of Faith church on Maxey

Road. All nine candidates had been invited, but for various reasons four of them did not attend.

Woman shoots at Police after chase from Jacinto City

EAST HOUSTON – Houston Police Officer Lance Calloway had an exciting first day on the street as an officer, as he was involved in a car chase and a shoot-out.

On Tuesday morning, at 11:30 a.m. officers saw a possible stolen Chevrolet Silverado pick-up truck on Mercury Drive in Jacinto City. They pulled over the truck, but the driver reversed and struck the HPD police car, and then sped away.

The chase continued west along the I-10 East Freeway, ending up in a private driveway in the 900 block of Woolworth, in the Denver Harbor neighborhood of the city, according to HPD spokesperson Victor Senties.

At that point, the woman driver exited the pick-up truck, and police told her to show her hands. Instead, she pulled out a gun, and fired at least one shot at the officers. Officer Calloway and Officer James Black returned fire. After this exchange, the woman gave up and was arrested. There were no injuries, and none of the shots struck anyone. The woman had another gun in the truck, too. Charges are pending against the woman driver at this time.

Stitch and Stuff -- Hug-A-Heart

MEMBERS OF THE SAN JACINTO PILOT CLUB were busy last week, making "Hug-A-Heart" pillows for patients at Texas Childrens Hospital. They make over 200 hearts twice a year as one of their community projects. Working on the pillows are, L to R, Kasi Schultz, Kim Schultz, Genevieve Pierson, Joan Van Fleet, Karen Westbrooks, Jillian Fallin, Julie Fallin.

Candidates in Galena Park prepare campaigns for May 7th Election

GALENA PARK – Candidates are beginning their fund raising, and posting signs for the upcoming municipal election, which is scheduled for May 7th.

A complete slate of candidates is not available, since prospective office seekers have until February 19th to sign up, according to city secretary Mayra Gonzales.

The citizens will be voting for a mayor, and council persons on this ballot.

A coalition of candidates recently held a chili dinner and silent auction at the Baggett Center to raise money for their campaigns.

Included in the slate of candidates were Dawn Thompson Fisher for Mayor, Danny P. Simms for Council position #1, Cruz Hinojosa Jr. for Council position #2, Marisela Serna for Council position #3, and Juan Flores for Council position #4.

About one hundred people attended the event, which included interchange between the candidates and the public, in a "get to know you" session.

Rep. Green hosts Town Hall at North Shore Library

NORTH SHORE – Congressman Gene Green spoke to a capacity crowd last Thursday night, as part of his semi-annual Town Hall meetings in various parts of his district.

Issues that were discussed at the meeting included refugees from Syria, Medicare and Social Security updates, the health insurance act known as Obamacare, or Affordable Care Act, and other matters of interest to the audience.

Green serves in Congress on the Energy and Commerce committees. During the 2015 Legislation Session, he worked on Health Care, Energy, Environmental, and Manufacturing issues.

Green maintains a local office at 11811 I-10 East in the North Shore area. He is currently holding five Town Hall meetings in District 29, and also sponsoring a Senior Issues Forum and a Paying for College Workshop. The Senior Issues forum is at the Ripley House on Navigation Blvd., on January 28 at 10 a.m., with representatives from Social Security, Agency on Aging, and Center for Medicare and Medicaid. The College Workshop, in conjunction with Sallie Mae, is on February 8 at 7 p.m. in the Aldine Senior High on Airline Drive.

Other events Green sponsors include a Children's Immunization Day, Citizenship Day for new citizens, Job Fairs on the North and Eastside, and a health fair.

SCHOOL NEWS

GALENA PARK ISD: Board of Trustees recognize outstanding volunteers

Jay Netherly (left) and Kenneth Wimbley (right) make a positive impact on students and faculty at North Shore Senior High School.

At the Galena Park ISD January meeting of the Board of Trustees, Kenneth Wimbley and Jay Netherly were recognized for their outstanding service at North Shore Senior High School (NSSHS). These two gentlemen can be seen regularly at the school, greeting and setting a fine example for students. "Come rain or shine, Mr. Wimbley can be counted on to provide a warm greeting to all students as they come in the front entrance [of the school]. He volunteers many hours to the Scarlets with fundraising activities and has built several portable stages for our theatre arts department. He not only encourages our students, but faculty and staff are inspired by his kind words as well," Dr. Coleman, NSSHS Principal said. When asked about Jay Netherly, Dr. Coleman replied, "If it's not a school holiday, Mr. Netherly will be found at his post – the North Wing Entrance. If [we] lost the Mustang as a mascot, we would consider Mr. Netherly for the job! He is faithful and dependable. He assists from 7:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. each and every day. Mr. Netherly also assisted with summer school this past summer, and he loves to attend the senior field trip, project graduation, prom and many other student activities."

Channelview ISD's January Students of the Month

ASK DIAMOND JIM

Diamond Jim: "What is the birthstone for January?"

JANUARY BIRTHSTONE
Garnet
Garnet, the birthstone for January, signifies eternal friendship and trust and is the perfect gift for a friend. Garnet, derived from the word granatum, means seed, and is called so because of the gemstone's resemblance to a pomegranate seed. References to the gemstone dates back to 3100 B.C., when the Egyptians used garnets as inlays jewelry. Garnet is the name of a group of minerals that comes in a rainbow of colors, from the deep red of the pyrope garnet to the vibrant green of tsavorites. Today, the most important sources for garnet are Africa, Sri Lanka, and India. Diamond Jim is a diamond dealer and precious metals broker of NTR Metals. See more at: www.pineforestjewelry.com. If you have questions pertaining to jewelry, watches, diamonds, precious stones, precious metals, and other questions related to the jewelry industry, email jmills@pineforestjewelry.com.

Chase awards $70,000 for student recruitment into high demand job training

PASADENA, Texas – San Jacinto College and Chase are entering the third year of the Great Jobs=Great Careers=Your Future grant program, having already served 187 students and 28 graduates in the training programs of welding, process technology, health sciences, engineering, and business.

This year, Chase has awarded the College $70,000 to allow recruitment of high school students into college training programs for high-wage/high demand jobs. This brings the total amount of Chase funds over the course of three years to $245,000 for the Great Jobs=Great Careers=Your Future program. The grant funds industry consultants; family and student workshops; stipends for students in capstone courses and internships; and scholarships for students in the program to help cover tuition, fees, and books.

Participating high schools for this year include C.E. King High School, Galena Park High School, Pasadena High School, and Sam Rayburn High School.

"Our strategies are to build a demand-driven system, one where employers are routinely communicating their needs to education and training providers, and invest in the best training,"

said Carolyn Watson, vice president of corporate responsibility with Chase. "This requires partnerships between groups that have often been working in silos. It also requires a high-touch approach in order for students to persist to completion. That's where the Great Jobs program comes in."

The Great Jobs=Great Careers=Your Future program also provides videos that feature young professionals in their careers and presentations delivered by Chase volunteers who provide financial education for college planning and information about how to manage finances once employed.

"We are grateful for the financial and organizational resources that Chase has invested in assisting us to ensure the program includes a high-touch support system," said Ludith González, San Jacinto College grant project coordinator and counselor.

With promotion of high-wage/high demand jobs at the core of the Great Jobs=Great Careers=Your Future mission, Chase has already featured this message on 400 ATM locations across the Houston region.

ward to every week."

Thurik said the Campbell students plan to resume the reading program in February. In addition, they have donated 100 books to the Early Childhood Center.

Channelview ISD's Director of Bilingual/ESL Magdalena Garcia applauds the progress students have made through the New Arrival program.

"To see the progress that they are making is very rewarding," Garcia said. "Programs such as reading to the Pre-Kindergarten kids are also an excellent idea. It's not only beneficial for our English Language learners, but helps develop a love of literacy in the younger students."

FOX 26 Meteorologist Stops by Null Middle School

FOX 26 Meteorologist Mike Iscovitz talks to Sheldon ISD students.

The students of Null Middle School were in for a special treat on Tuesday, January 12, 2016. Mike Iscovitz, the weekday morning meteorologist for Houston's FOX 26, stopped by the school to chat with the kids.

His visit started in Mrs. Ngala's 7th grade science class, where students got to ask Iscovitz questions about science, his career and more. Iscovitz even gave the students a small science lesson using dry ice.

After visiting with those students, Iscovitz went to the cafeteria where he gave a presentation to the entire 6th grade class. He gave students a small behind the scenes look at what it's like working in TV news, how he comes up with his weather forecasts, and how he got to where he is today. Iscovitz even stressed the importance of math and science in school.

"One of the things you have to do is pay attention in middle school and high school. Don't let yourself wander. Then when you get to college, make sure you know what classes you need to take and do the best that you can," Iscovitz told the students. "You know what I always tell people, is that if you feel like you need help, ask for help."

Iscovitz's visit to the school was used as an opportunity to show students about STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) careers and how they too can pursue a career down that path.

Explore what’s happening with Medicare’s prescription drug costs

By Bob Moos, Southwest public affairs officer for the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services

You only have to look at the latest receipt from your pharmacist to know that prescription drug costs are rising.

Nationwide, spending on medications grew 13 percent in 2014, far outstripping the 5 percent overall increase for health care spending. Prescription drug costs haven’t gone up that fast since 2001.

Sometimes, the increase was due to a breakthrough medicine whose cure comes at a high price. Other times, it was the result of an overnight tripling of the cost of a generic drug that has been around for years.

Millions of Americans depend on prescription medications to manage chronic illnesses or treat acute conditions. But surveys suggest that as many as 25 percent of us don’t fill a prescription because we can’t afford it.

As people stop filling their scripts, they not only jeopardize their health, they also run the risk of costing themselves and the health care system even more when they fall sick from conditions that could have been prevented.

Naturally, rising drug costs have prompted consumers to ask questions.

What medications in particular are driving up prices? Are brand-name or generic drug costs growing faster? And, most important, what can be done to make needed medications affordable?

The U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, the federal agency that oversees the Medicare and Medicaid programs, has a vested interest in encouraging this public discussion. It spent $140 billion on drugs for seniors, the poor, children and people with disabilities in 2014.

The agency recently created an online database – at www.cms.gov – that allows anyone to dive into Medicare’s prescription drug data and examine some of the clearest examples of the increased costs.

After you arrive at www.cms.gov, type “Medicare drug spending dashboard” in the search field.

The new database lists 80 medications that were chosen because they triggered the highest overall spending or the greatest per-patient expenditures or the largest percentage price increases.

For each drug listed, you’ll see the total amount that Medicare and its beneficiaries spent on it in 2014, recent trends in its price and the number of older Americans who depend on it.

Here are a few of the findings:

- The hepatitis C drug Sovaldi accounted for the highest expenditure at $3.1 billion. Used by about 33,000 Medicare beneficiaries, it had a $1,000-per-pill price when it entered the market in 2014.

- Remodulin, which treats high blood pressure in the lungs, had the largest per-user spending at $133,845. A total of 1,235 beneficiaries used the drug, whose cost amounted to $165.3 million.

- The pain reliever Vimovo had the biggest increase in its per-unit cost between 2013 and 2014, rising 543 percent after one company purchased rights to the drug from another.

By putting such data in the hands of consumers, providers and researchers, Medicare hopes the public will gain a better understanding of what’s going on with prescription drug costs. A similar database for Medicaid’s drug spending will be unveiled later this year.

The Medicare database comes on the heels of a recent forum in Washington that brought together consumer advocates, pharmaceutical company executives, insurance industry representatives and government officials to discuss how we can continue to encourage drug discoveries and still ensure that those new medicines are accessible.

Developing groundbreaking drugs requires significant investment, and there’s no disputing that this nation needs to support that important work. Without such innovation, we won’t have the drugs that will better manage diabetes and heart disease and maybe even cure cancer.

But, as CMS’ leaders have said, we shouldn’t accept the notion that we as a society must choose between innovation and affordability. We deserve both.

Shedding new light on drug spending may help offer some clues in our search for an effective strategy that makes sure as many people as possible can benefit from today’s, and tomorrow’s, wonder drugs.

Governor meets with Prime Minister Netanyahu

AUSTIN — Gov. Greg Abbott on Jan. 18 met with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu during a business development tour in Israel.

Abbott said in a news release that the meeting was “to discuss Texas and Israel’s historic bond” and how he can further solidify their relationship.

Abbott informed Netanyahu that Texas would “maintain its Iran divestiture policy” and that he would “seek new laws to strengthen Texas’ prohibitions on the investment of public funds in Iran.”

Abbott said the legislation he plans to promote would:

- Require local governmental entities to divest investments in Iran;
- Require all Texas state entities that invest money to divest Iran investments, not just Texas’ various retirement funds; and
- Close loopholes in Texas’ Iran divestment law after examining them to determine where and how any exceptions can be minimized or eliminated altogether.

Abbott reminded readers that in September 2015, he sent a letter to the Texas congressional delegation stating his opposition to Congress’ Obama’s Iran nuclear deal. On July 14, 2015, the president signed what the White House called “a comprehensive, long-term deal that will verifiably prevent Iran from obtaining a nuclear weapon.”

Court to review Texas case

The U.S. Supreme Court on Jan. 19 announced it would review an immigration case that originated in Brownsville.

Styled now as United States v. Texas, the case challenges the Obama administration’s November 2014 executive order affecting the deportation policy for undocumented immigrants. The case is scheduled to be argued before the court in April, with a decision expected in June.

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton reacted to the Supreme Court’s decision to hear the case, saying that the court “recognizes the importance of the separation of powers.”

Texas leads a 26-state coalition against the president’s immigration plan. Federal courts have ruled in the states’ favor three times, most recently in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, Paxton noted.

AG opines on online gaming

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton on Jan. 19 issued an opinion in response to a legislative inquiry regarding the legality of online gaming.

State Rep. Myra Crownover, R-Denton, chair of the House Committee on Public Health, asked Paxton whether “daily fantasy sports leagues” are permissible under Texas law, and if it is legal to participate in fantasy sports leagues where the house does not take a “rake” and the participants only wager among themselves.

Paxton said, “Paid daily ‘fantasy sports’ operators claim they can legally operate as an unregulated house, but none of their arguments square with existing Texas law. Simply put, it is prohibited gambling in Texas if you bet on the performance of a participant in a sporting event and the house takes a cut.”

Paxton said that unlike some other states, Texas law only requires “partial chance” for something to be gambling; it does not require that chance predominate.

The opinion makes clear, Paxton added, that “traditional fantasy sports leagues are, as a general rule, legal under Texas law. In those leagues, participants generally split any pot amongst themselves, so there is no house that takes a cut.”

Job statistics are posted

The Texas Workforce Commission on Jan. 22 announced the state ended calendar year 2015 with another month of growth in employment, adding 24,900 jobs.

“Texas finished 2015 on a strong note in December with employers adding 166,900 jobs over the year across a diverse range of industries,” said Texas Workforce Commission Chair Andres Alcantar.

Texas’ seasonally adjusted unemployment rate increased to 4.7 percent in December, up from 4.6 percent in November. It remained below the national average of 5.0 percent. The Workforce Commission, citing figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics, pointed out these statistics:

- Professional and business services employment surged in December with the addition of 12,500 positions, the industry’s largest over-the-month gain since November 2014; and

- The education and health services industry recorded the second-largest employment gain over the month in Texas with 7,400 jobs added, marking 21 consecutive months of growth and a total of 66,700 jobs added since January 2015.

Furthermore, said Ruth R. Hughs, TWC’s commissioner representing employers, “Private-sector employment was strong over the year with the overall job growth of 141,300 jobs in December.”

EPA recognizes Houston as top user of ‘Green Power’

The City of Houston is in the top spot on the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s (EPA’s) Top 30 Local Government list of the largest green power users from the Green Power Partnership. The City is using nearly one billion kilowatt-hours (kWh) of green power annually, which represents over 75% percent of its total power needs. In addition, the City of Houston, is generating green power from an on-site solar and wind energy systems. The City’s choice to use green power is helping to advance the green power market and support clean renewable energy alternatives.

Houston has signed an agreement with Reliant Energy, an NRG Energy company, to increase its purchase of Green-E certified renewable energy credits. The City will be using more than 950,000 MWh of green power per year, which, according to U.S. EPA, is equivalent to the amount of kilowatt-hours needed to supply more than 87,000 homes each year.

Green power is zero-emissions electricity that is generated from environmentally preferable renewable resources, such as wind, solar, geothermal, biogas, eligible biomass, and low-impact hydro. Using green power helps build demand for the development of new renewable energy capacity nationwide and helps users reduce their carbon footprints.

“We are proud to be recognized by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for our green power use,” said Mayor Sylvester Turner. “By making the choice to use clean, renewable energy, our organization becomes more sustainable, while also sending a message to others across the United States that using green power is a sound business decision and an important tool in reducing one’s carbon footprint in the fight against climate change.”

In addition to the City of Houston’s spot on the Top 30 Local Government list, the City of Houston, TX also appears as No. 6 on the National Top 100 list. This green power commitment also qualifies City of Houston, TX for EPA’s Green Power Leadership Club, a distinction organizations earn by significantly exceeding EPA’s minimum green power use requirements.

“The EPA is pleased to recognize the City of Houston, TX as a leading Green Power Partner and applauds its purchase of green power, leadership among local governments, and support of the voluntary renewable energy market,” said James Critchfield, program director of EPA’s Green Power Partnership.

Recent sustainability initiatives that the City has approved include:

- Adopting an anti-idling ordinance for motor vehicles with a gross vehicle rating of more than 14,000 lbs;
- Establishing a commercial Property Assess Clean Energy (PACE) program to enable Houston owners of commercial, industrial and residential properties with five or more units to obtain low-cost, long-term loans for water conservation, energy-efficiency and renewable retrofits; and
- Moving forward with a 30 MW solar power purchase agreement for municipal operations.

Six Goose Creek Memorial HS musicians qualify for 2016 TMEA

Six Goose Creek CISD high school musicians qualified for the 2016 Texas Music Educators Association (TMEA) All-State competition, distinguishing them as in the top three percent of all high school musicians in the state of Texas.

From the Goose Creek Memorial High School Band, sophomore Trenton Carr, second-year All-State French horn player, qualified for the 2016 TMEA All-State 5A Band. He is under the direction of Richard Lewis, Andrew Keir and James Boudier. GCM's Rachel Freeman, second-year All-State Choir member, qualified in the top one percent of high school vocalists in the state for the 2016 All-State

Mixed Choir, GCM junior Ja'Lon Douglas, second-year All-State Choir member, qualified for the 2016 TMEA All-State Men's Choir. Freeman and Douglas are under the direction of Holly Lewallen and Lori in Hilyard.

Ross S. Sterling High School Choir, students Erica Erwin, a senior third-year All-State Choir member, qualified among the top one percent of high school vocalists in the state for the 2016 TMEA All-State Mixed Choir, and Zoey Henderson, a junior first-year All-State Choir member, qualified for the 2016 TMEA All-State Women's Choir. The choir students are under the direction of Nikki Thompson and Levi Duncan. Tomas de la Rosa, a junior 2nd year All-State Violist, qualified for the 2016 TMEA All-State 6A Orchestra. He is under the direction of Nicholas McMurray.

"Thousands of students from across all TMEA regions and conferences auditioned through multiple levels of competition and cuts to become the elite in their respective vocal and instrumental fields," said Phillip Morgan, GCCISD director of fine arts. "The GCCISD Department of Fine Arts is extremely proud of these students, their faculty instructors and their campus programs on the pinnacle of accomplishment of individual performance in music."

Put Your Financial “Puzzle” together

January 29 is National Puzzle Day, with puzzle celebrations and events taking place at museums, libraries and other venues across the country. Why this date was chosen – or why National Puzzle Day even exists – is something of a mystery. But as an investor, you can find value in the concept of a puzzle – specifically, in putting together the pieces of your financial puzzle.

What are these pieces? Here are the essential ones:

- Growth – At different times in your life, you will have various goals – purchasing a first or second home, sending your children to college, enjoying a comfortable retirement, and so on. While these goals are diverse, they all have one thing in common: To achieve them, you'll need some growth potential in your investment portfolio. The nature and the extent of the growth-oriented vehicles, such as stocks and stock-based instruments, in your holdings will depend on your specific goals, risk tolerance and time horizon – but growth opportunities you must have.

- Income – Income-producing investments, such as bonds and dividend-paying stocks, can help supplement your earned income during your working years and provide you with a valuable income stream when you're retired. Plus, bonds and other income-producers can help balance a portfolio that might otherwise be too heavy in growth vehicles – which, as you know, are typically higher in risk.

- Taxes – Taxes will always be part of the investment equation. Whenever possible, you'll want to take advantage of those accounts that let you make tax-deductible contributions and that provide the opportunity for tax-deferred growth, such as a traditional IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. You may also find that you can benefit from tax-free investments, such as some types of municipal bonds and a Roth IRA. (Your Roth IRA contributions are not tax-deductible, but your earnings grow tax free, provided you've had your account at least five years and you don't start taking withdrawals until you reach 59½.)

- Protection – You can't just invest for your future – you also have to protect it. If something were to happen to you, would your family be able to remain in your home? Would your children still be able to go to college? To help ensure continuity and security in your family's lives, you'll need to maintain adequate life and disability insurance. Also, you will need to protect your independence in your retirement years, as you no doubt would want to avoid burdening your grown children with any financial burden. To attain this type of freedom, you may have to guard against the potentially catastrophic costs of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay. A financial professional can suggest ways of meeting these expenses.

- Legacy – After working hard your whole life, you'd probably like to leave something behind to your children, grandchildren, other family members and possibly even charitable institutions. To create the legacy you desire, you will need to create a comprehensive estate plan. Because such a plan may involve a will, living trust and other complex legal documents, you will need to work with your legal and tax advisors.

- Try to put these pieces together to help complete your financial “puzzle” – when you do, you may well like the picture that emerges.

Two men die in a roll-over accident

Houston police are investigating a fatal crash at 12900 East Freeway (East Interstate Highway 10) about 11 p.m. last Thursday, January 21, 2016.

Houston Police said witnesses saw the driver of a white Ford F-150 pickup truck traveling westbound on the East Freeway at a high rate of speed when, for unknown reasons, he lost control of the vehicle, which rolled over several times. The driver and two passengers of the pickup were ejected and the pickup came to a stop on the service road. One passenger died on impact and the other was transported to the hospital where he died. The third man, believed to be the driver, was transported to Ben Taub General Hospital in critical condition. The identities of both victims are pending verification by the Harris County Institute of Forensic Sciences.

The investigation is continuing, as results of a mandatory blood draw are pending.

The forum, or panel, was hosted by the church and Pastor Robert Dixon II. The forum itself was moderated by Ayana Mack, a radio personality heard on NGEN radio 89.3, and previously on KSBJ.

Sponsoring the forum were the African American Sheriff's Association, and the Concerned Citizens of North Shore.

The candidates made opening and closing statements on their positions, and most of the time was spent answering specific questions from a panel made up of law enforcement personnel and a lawyer.

Each candidate presented their qualifications and their experience, as well as a short statement about how they would run the Constable department if elected.

Questions related to youth and community initiatives, profiling of minorities, interaction of police and the community, how to involve senior citizens in community needs, how to reduce the crime rate, how to deal with the drug problem, how to be safer when gun laws encourage arms, how each feels about body cameras, diversity of the constable's department, what training each has to deal with terrorism, how proposals including more training will be paid for, and what programs should be available to rehabilitate inmates.

Candidates made the following points:

Michel Pappillion said that he was a retired HPD sergeant with 32 years experience, 8 years in the Northeast area, wanted psychiatric evaluation for officers on a regular basis, should increase supervision, meet with civic clubs every 3 months, coordinate closer with the Sheriff's office.

James Stewart said his platform was investing in youth, providing safety for seniors, and using community oriented policing. He is a lieutenant in the Sheriff's office with 25 years experience. He said drug enforcement needs to have a medical solution rather than a police solution. He will work to increase money for the department.

CATEGORICAL EXCLUSIONTO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES AND PUBLIC GROUPS:

In accordance with the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) environmental review process established at 31 Texas Administrative Code (TAC) Chapter 371, Subchapter E, for projects to be funded through the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund (DWSRF) Program and consistent with the National Environmental Policy Act, 42 U.S. Code §4321, et seq., the Executive Administrator of the TWDB has determined that the proposed action identified below may be exempted from formal environmental review requirements:

Harris County Municipal Utility District No. 50, Harris County, Texas
Water Systems Improvements
DWSRF Project No. 62683
Total Estimated TWDB Commitment: $2,470,000
Total Amount of Loan Forgiveness: $1,034,409

Harris County Municipal Utility District #50 (District) is proposing to use funding from a $2,470,000 DWSRF Program loan for the acquisition, design, and construction required to implement improvements to the District's water system. The proposed project is eligible for additional subsidy (principal forgiveness) in an amount not to exceed $1,034,409. Specifically, the District plans to: (1) evaluate the Crosby-Lynchburg well by performing a video survey of the well, cleaning the well if necessary, installing a test pump, and conducting a pumping test to determine the maximum capacity of the well; (2) inspect existing facilities, including all ground storage tanks, piping, booster pumps, electrical systems, and disinfection systems; (3) replace 6-inch water lines in Crosby-Lynchburg Road and 4-inch water lines in Magnolia Avenue with larger lines to maintain Texas Commission on Environmental Quality's (TCEQ's) minimum pressure requirements throughout the entire system; (4) construct a new booster pump building with four 500 gallon per minute (gpm) booster pumps at the Crosby-Lynchburg Water Plant in order to comply with TCEQ and Texas State Board of Insurance Regulations. The booster pump building will be constructed on an existing site; and (5) construct a new 80,000 gallon ground storage tank, a pump building to house three 200 gpm booster pumps as well as all disinfection and electrical equipment, a 15,000 gallon hydro-pneumatic tank, and all associated piping at the St. Charles Water Plant. All construction will occur on the existing St. Charles Water Plant site. In addition, the project will require adequate isolation valves, fittings and all necessary appurtenances, including pavement repairs.

Existing lines will be replaced by new lines in the same locations. The existing lines will be removed. Environmental impacts should be similar to rehabilitation activities and limited to those associated with excavation, pipe installation, and road repair. Board staff has reviewed the Texas Historical Commission's (THC) Archeological Sites Atlas. Three cemeteries and one historical marker were identified within 1 mile of the proposed project area; therefore, formal coordination with the THC was required. The THC provided concurrence that no historic properties will be affected by the proposed project on December 14, 2015.

The construction of the new booster pump station will require clearing of vegetation within the project area; therefore, formal coordination with the Texas Parks and Wildlife (TPWD) was required. TPWD provided a response on December 15, 2015. Based on the project description, the Wildlife Habitat Assessment Program does not anticipate significant adverse impacts to rare, threatened or endangered species, or other fish and wildlife resources.

The project will not adversely impact wetlands or waters of the U.S. that are under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. In addition, construction within existing rights-of-ways and easements is not expected to impact threatened or endangered species habitat.

This decision is allowed because the specified project elements should not entail significant adverse impacts to the quality of the human environment. Documentation supporting this determination is on file at the TWDB.

This determination may be rescinded if it is found that:

- (1) The project no longer meets the requirements for a CE as a result of changes in the project;
- (2) The project involves extraordinary circumstances as defined in 31 TAC Section 371.41; or
- (3) The project may violate or has violated federal, state, local, or tribal laws.

The project also must comply with the following standard emergency conditions:

- Standard emergency condition for the discovery of cultural resources; and,
- Standard emergency condition for the discovery of threatened and endangered species.

Comments regarding this determination may be submitted to the Director of Regional Water Planning and Development, Texas Water Development Board, P.O. Box 13231, Austin, Texas 78711-3231.

Galena Park ISD hosts annual Rodeo Art Show

The Galena Park Independent School District's annual Rodeo Art Show was held on Thursday, January 14th in the North Shore Senior High School auditorium. This event featured artwork by approximately 450 students in grades K-12 from each elementary, middle and high school campus in the district.~

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo™ School Art Committee judged the 2016 GPISD Rodeo Art Show and bestowed special recognition on eight pieces of artwork selected as "Best in Show", "Gold Medal" and "Special Merit" winners. Those winning pieces will be prominently displayed in the Hayloft Gallery at the NRG Center throughout the duration of this year's-Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo™. Approximately 50 pieces of art, as determined by the final round of Grand Prix judging, will be auctioned. Every participant in the School Art Program is a winner, receiving a certificate of merit signed by the Show president, and a blue, red or white ribbon for achievement.

Sheldon ISD appoints new Chief Academic Officer

Patsy P. Cavazos was officially named the new Chief Academic Officer at the January board meeting.

Cavazos is coming to Sheldon from the Houston Independent School District, where she has worked for the past 30 years. During her time at HISD, she has held several different leadership positions which have allowed her to coach and mentor principals. She is currently serving as HISD's School Support Officer, where she works very closely with ten principals to ensure effective instructional school programs, monitor campus budgets, and much more.

As the new Chief Academic Officer for Sheldon ISD, Ms. Cavazos will be responsible for planning, directing and reviewing all efforts dealing with teaching and learning, school performance, and school improvement. She will also work closely with central office personnel, campus/department administrators, district personnel and the Sheldon community.

Cavazos is scheduled to start on February 1, 2016.

GPISD holds District Wide Spanish Spelling Bee

Galena Park ISD held its annual Spanish Spelling Bee on Friday, January 22 at the GPISD Administration Building. The ten top competitors from each of the high schools (Early College, Galena Park, North Shore Ninth Grade and North Shore Senior) gathered to see who would become the GPISD Spanish Spelling Bee champion. After many rounds of spelling, the winners emerged: Alenny's Davila- 1st Place; Juan Isaac Gomez Garza- 2nd Place; and Yaimarys Lambert Sanchez- 3rd Place. Each of the winners will receive a scholarship to use toward their college funds.

Man killed during robbery on Market St.

A man was killed and another wounded in a shooting last Sunday, January 24, 2016 in Jacinto City area.

The shooting happened at 12400 Market Street about 2:15 a.m., when Houston Police officers arrived to the place, they found a man who had died and another wounded.

According to police reports, subsequent investigation determined both victims had been shot during an apparent robbery.

The identity of the deceased man is pending verification by the Harris County Institute of Forensic Sciences. The second victim suffered a gunshot wound and was transported to an area hospital in an unknown condition.

The suspect of the robbery is described only as a Hispanic male, about 5 feet tall and weighing 160 pounds. He is clean shaven and reported to be bilingual. Anyone with information on this case is urged to contact the HPD Homicide Division at 713-308-3600 or Crime Stoppers at 713-222-TIPS.
