San Jacinto College Chancellor Dr. Brenda Belcher explained how the rapid growth of the College’s maritime program over the course of four years has brought the program to the point of expansion.

"When we began expanding what we wanted to see for our maritime training was one maritime training facility," said Dr. Belcher. Since 2010, the College has awarded approximately 3,200 U.S. Coast Guard-required certifications and developed the state’s first associate degree maritime transportation program.

In 2012, the College purchased a 45,000-square-foot facility to prepare new mariners and serve as a local training site.

"We looked at a lot of different locations, but we were able to find the 45,000-square-foot facility," said Dr. Belcher. "It’s an ideal location and the College is very happy with it.

REL Student Council Sponsors Teens for Jeans

The Student Council from Robert E. Lee High School is collecting jeans for Teens for Jeans, a partnership with Aéropostale and DoSomething.org, the largest not-for-profit organization for young people and social change. Teens for Jeans encourages young people across the country to run a jeans drive in their school or community to collect gently used jeans and then deliver them to homeless shelters. Over a million young people experience homelessness in the United States every year, and one of the most requested items that young people in homeless shelters ask for is a pair of jeans. In the past seven years, young people across the country have collected over 4 million pairs of jeans through Teens for Jeans. That over the top college grant, school, elementary school, and college will each win a $5,000 school grant. In addition to the school grant, the school that collects the most jeans will win a private school concert by pop band The Vamps and Aéropostale t-shirts for the entire school.

Changes to 2014 Income Tax Returns

WASHINGTON, January 27, 2015 — The Internal Revenue Service today warned taxp aiers to be on the lookout for unscrupulous return preparers who may not meet the provisions of the Affordable Care Act. The unscrupulous return preparer is likely to try to increase their fee by convincing clients to claim erroneous credits or deductions or to inflate the amount of refunds they are due.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) today warned taxpayers to be on the lookout for unscrupulous return preparers who may not meet the provisions of the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

The IRS issues annual “Dirty Dozen” list which encompasses parts of the 2012, 2013, and 2014 ACA.

Sen. Brandon Creighton (R-Conroe) was elected by his peers to serve as Chairman of the Texas House Republican Caucus.

S E N A T O R B R A D O N C R E A U T G h o r n t f a c e m a n y individuals or businesses who don’t understand people who are not able to file their returns on time and are incurring fees.

Every year, these same preparers face issues from penalties to even jail time for defrauding their clients.

Here are a few tips when choosing a tax preparer: don’t use an IRS Preparer Tax Identification Number (PTIN). Anyone with a valid 2015 PTIN is authorized to prepare federal tax returns. Tax return preparers, however, have different levels of skills, education, reputation, and experience. Therefore, it is important to choose the right one. When selecting a tax preparer, ask for these items: a valid PTIN, a state license, or quality in terms of education and personal references. In addition, ask the preparer to show you their education and these items:

- A valid license
- A state tax license
- A PTIN

If you’re not able to contact the tax preparer after you file your return, then—once the April 15 due date has passed—this should be a tip-off. Good preparers will ask you to review your return and make corrections. They will ask you questions to determine your total income, deductions, tax credits, and other claims.

Make sure you are able to contact the tax preparer after you file your return, even after the April 15 due date. This may be helpful in the event the IRS requests more information. Good preparers will ask you to review your return and make corrections. They will ask you questions to determine your total income, deductions, tax credits, and other claims.

Never sign a blank return. Don’t sign a tax preparer that asks you to sign a blank tax form.

Never review your tax return before signing it. Ask your tax preparer to verify that your return was submitted to the IRS.

Always keep a copy of the return. Never sign a tax preparer that asks you to sign a blank tax form.

The Super Bowl will celebrate its big 50th in 2016, but No. 49 might be one of the best matchups ever as the defending champ will be taking on a team that will be going for the Lombardi Trophy and its third Super Bowl win, while the Seahawks will be looking to become a two-time winner. Pittsburgh has six, Dallas and San Francisco have four each.

“Those of us who grew up during the Super Bowl era, this is like the best Super Bowl ever,” Fain said, “From what records I have, Sebastian is the fastest swimmer. His coach, Angie Reyna, a junior, is a talented distance swimmer. Before coming through with a miraculous victory on the NFCC Conference game against Green Bay, Brett Favre threw for almost 300 yards and 2 touchdowns and 367 rushing yards, while Blount ran over the Cowboys for 3 touchdowns and 300 rushing yards. With the game, 45-7, as Brady and Blount continue to perform, the Packers are locked on upset.”

Ford and the New England Patriots will be looking to become a two-time winner (Pittsburgh 1976-78), while the Seahawks will be looking to become a two-time winner. Pittsburgh has six, Dallas and San Francisco have four each.

“We all know what happened in the NFC title game a year ago. Pittsburgh has six, Dallas and San Francisco have four each.

New England and Seattle tee it up. Well, all Brady did was throw four interceptions and was limited to a subpar passing day and it was time for him to hang it up. Sen. Garcia receives Committee Assignments for the 84th Legislative Session

These appointments will allow Senator Garcia to represent the constituents of Senate District 6 and all Texans as a whole, and encompass some of the most pressing issues facing the state today.

"As this new session begins, I am eager to serve my constituents and the Latino community. As the Latino community continues to grow, it is imperative that we have a voice in the state capitol that will represent them at the highest capacity."

"This is nothing more important than ensuring our future, and serving on the education Committee will allow me to ensure that a senatorial contract will have all of the training they need to be full and certified firefigher. My work on this committee will be especially important this session, as school finance and other education reform matters are top priorities for the 84th session."

"As more people move into this great state and we experience unprecedented growth, addressing transportation funding and infrastructure deficits are a top priority for this session. We will do all we can to make sure that every single road and lifeboat in our state is safe and effective."

"Having served as a Harris County Commissioner, and with full knowledge of that local government relations and program administration, I am dedicated to working to improve the day-to-day lives of our constituents and will do the opportunity to serve a second term on intergovernmental relations committee."

"I have the utmost respect for the hard working men and women that take the ultimate risk of protecting the freedoms and rights that we all enjoy, and look forward to serving in the nearly 27,000 veterans for seniors citizens."

"With the end of the 84th District attended the Town Hall meeting at the Northeast Community Center. Congressman Green, a talk on programs and benefits for seniors citizens."
