Located at 10396 Imperial Drive, Jacinto City, TX 77079 with special guest speaker, Harris County Department of Education Board Member, Diane Trautman. In addition to this role, she is a candidate in the 2018 Election for Harris County Clerk.

After years of Texas voters having the option to vote for the entire party’s slate in one sweep, the straight-ticket op- tion will no longer be available beginning in 2020 under a new bill (H.B. 239). This makes it more relevant than ever before for voters to get to know the candidates as well as to get involved in campaigns and the political process.

Lessons From My Father

He lives on the words he once spoke by Charles P. Peters

The Pierce family: John Patrick and his son, Charles P. Peters, at the Pierce family home in Houston.

As a small boy, Charles P. Peters would listen to his father Charles Peters Sr., who worked as a teacher and principal at what was then called an “inner-city” high school. Charley, as the people who knew him called him, was and is a man of many books. He was a man who lived his life as if he had only one chance to do it. He was a man who never took no for an answer. He was a man who never gave up. He was a man who never stopped learning. He was a man who never stopped fighting.

In his book, “Lessons From My Father,” Charles P. Peters Sr. shares the wisdom he learned from his own father, an Irish immigrant who became a city man because his parents were too poor to send him to college. He was a man who never gave up. He was a man who never stopped learning. He was a man who never stopped fighting.

Charles P. Peters Sr. was a man who never gave up. He was a man who never stopped learning. He was a man who never stopped fighting. He was a man who never gave up. He was a man who never stopped learning. He was a man who never stopped fighting.

ASK THE EXPERT

Diamond Jim: "Is custom jewelry something that only the "Rich & Famous" can afford?"

Absolutely not. In fact, custom jewelry may even be less than buying an item already designed and manufactured. Take for example Engagement Rings and Wedding bands; the cost of the gold is included in the market price. The jeweler buys the gold and other materials to make the rings such as diamonds, rubies, emeralds, and so on. In addition, many people are finding that it’s better to work with a trusted jeweler to help you design custom jewelry. My colleagues and I are finding that it’s better to settle for buying something that someone else designed…someone you don’t even know or probably never heard of. So, now that you would like to design your own jewelry, what is the first step that you need to take in order to have a custom piece of jewelry?

1) Identify a trusted jeweler that you can work with. Have the jewelry show you that they personally have completed for other custom jewelry customers. Schedule an appointment with the jeweler and sit down to talk. Bring your photos, drawings, or ideas with you and begin by telling the jeweler about the type of piece you have in mind. Examples of such as a ring, earrings, a pendant, a complete work for the final rendering; before they can begin creating the final product. What is needed to manifest custom jewelry? For the customer, it’s really easy to do and here are the steps:

a) The jeweler will work with you to take your design from "idea" to "rendering" to the real finished product.

b) Some jewelers, like Pineforest Jewelry have a CAD (Computer Assisted Design) software system in their store that will help you get started with your design phase and will help you to get an idea about how much it will cost.

2) The jeweler will begin to "render" the real finished product.

3) The jeweler is responsible for making the jewelry into the real finished product. This is the step where he/she will further his musical career and study under renown Timothy McAllister. He’s now received par- tial scholarships of $65,000 from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and, here’s the best idea after his solo perfor- mance and extensive inter- views he was selected as one of the nation’s, 161 stu- dents.

4) If a custom, one-of-a- kind piece of jewelry that you’ve designed works great but the price will be:

a) The jeweler is responsible for setting the stones.

b) The jeweler will make some changes and like, bring it to your jewel- er, make some changes and set the stones.

If you have questions pert- 2) The jeweler will make some changes and like, bring it to your jewel- er, make some changes and set the stones.
