Bank Capital observes 50th Anniversary

JACINTO CITY – Capital Bank proudly bustles past its 50th anniversary on Thursday, September 24, with an Open House reception for its customers, employees, and shareholders.

The bank history dates back to April 10, 1965 when it first opened on Palestine Street with 205 accounts. A year later it needed a new building, which was built at the corner of Palestine and Mercury, and eventually opened for business.

The bank has been under the ownership of the Goehring family since 1979, with the current president of the bank, in London, England, an 11-year veteran of Capital Bank, who has over 30 years with South Trust and Bank of America.

In 1979 the FDIC moved the bank to 1170 Waco Street, and in 1983 the bank became Capital Bank.

The current president of the bank is President Lora Rearick, an 11-year veteran of Capital Bank, who has over 30 years with South Trust and Bank of America.

President Goehring said his goal is to add value to the relationship with each of the groups he serves: customers, employees, and shareholders.

Because of its size and structure, Capital Bank has the unique opportunity to make decisions in-house by its board. Capital Bank is owned and operated by the Goehring family, he added.

The bank offers a variety of banking products and services, including checking, savings, money market, and loan products.

The bank is a full-service branch, offering a variety of banking products and services, including checking, savings, money market, and loan products.

The annual homecoming parade started at Stephanie Crossing Early Childhood Academy on Edwards Road, and ended at Southmore Boulevard. The parade featured marching bands, floats, and other community groups and attractions. The parade was a major event that brought together many members of the community.

The Wizard of Oz was a common theme throughout the annual parade, as osteopathic residents led the parade in costume. The parade wrapped up at Southmore and Main streets from each school, followed by floats in honor of the community.

The annual parade kicks off the week-long homecoming festivities for the Sheldon Community. It all concluded on an end-on Sep- termber 25, 2015, when the parade hosted the Senior Portrait.

“Today is an opportunity for our community to come together and celebrate,” said Ronnie Antley, LyondellBasell’s Houston Community Manager. “Helping hands are needed tomake a great community," said GBCC Executive Director Jill Boullion. “They work alongside our volunteers and staff over the months on various projects ready,” said GBCC Executive Director Jill Boullion. “They work alongside our volunteers and staff over the months on various projects ready,” said GBCC Executive Director Jill Boullion.

The annual homecoming parade was a significant event that brought together the community in a festive and engaging way. The parade featured various groups and attractions, and was a testament to the strong sense of community in the area.

The Wizard of Oz was a common theme throughout the parade, with participants donning costumes and decorations inspired by the iconic movie. The parade was a popular event that drew a large crowd of spectators and participants alike.

The parade kicked off at Stephanie Crossing Early Childhood Academy and ended at Southmore Boulevard. It was a joyous occasion that brought together members of the community and celebrated the spirit of camaraderie and cooperation. The Wizard of Oz theme added a magical touch, captivating the audience with its colorful floats and creative displays.

The parade was a testament to the strength and unity of the community, as members of all ages joined together to celebrate and honor the local heroes who contribute to the area’s success. The annual homecoming parade will continue to be a beloved tradition that brings joy and unity to the Sheldon community.

Edward Allen Hauerland

Edward Allen Hauerland was the fourth child of Anton and Henrietta Hauerland, born in Sealy, Texas on December 31, 1947. His family moved to Houston in 1955, where he graduated from high school. He attended college part-time while working and attending college full-time. He was a 1965 graduate of Columbus, Texas, and Leatrice Wormeli of Brenham, Texas in 1967.

In 1971, he married Patricia Ann Mason, and the couple had five children. He was honorably discharged with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Houston, Texas in 1976. He served in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and was a marksman. Receiving Most Valuable Player honors 2 years in a row, and receiving bloodline which extended to them.

Ed is preceded in death by his long-time friend, Gary Rickles. He was born in Sealy, Texas, and was a true family man. He is survived by his children, grandchildren, and many other family and friends. Duane and Marveline Pira lived in Highlands, TX where they met and soon united Duane and Marveline. She was a member of Lakerose church where he served as a young pastor. Around the age of 20, Ed started managing his children with raising young horses. Ed was a true family man who always made the best out of his situation and always had a smile on his face.

Requests for flowers are honored. Donations in memory of Ed can be made to the Saint Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church. The family wishes to give special thanks to the entire Warriors Project community, family, and friends as “Ed”, peace. Ed brought much love and generosity to others will always be remembered.

Edith Pira on September 16, 2015 in Baytown, Texas. He was a Vietnam veteran, married on November 16, 1945, shortly after Duane’s return from his tour of duty. Ed is survived by his wife of nearly 70 years, Marveline Pira, and their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Ed was a true family man who always made the best out of his situation and always had a smile on his face.

In many parts of the country, it’s harvest season. As a country, you’ve got a lot to be proud of. Farmers work hard, from the labors of farmers and those of fingers skill set can also teach you a lot about your world.

Howard is a co-founder of Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. In his role, he is a member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board) and a voting member of the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC). He has been an active participant in the ongoing discussions about monetary policy and its impact on the economy. His expertise includes econometric modeling, empirical macroeconomics, and policy analysis.

In his statement, Howard described the importance of understanding how the economy works and how monetary policy affects it. He highlighted the significance of the FOMC's role in determining the federal funds rate, which influences interest rates and, consequently, economic activity. Howard emphasized the need for ongoing education and research to better understand the complex interactions between the economy and monetary policy.
