The bill will go back to the House for an amendment before going on to the Governor who can sign it or do nothing after 15 days, and the bill becomes law. The bill probably came into effect in 2020.

Heartscreening for Texas Athletes

According to Scott Stephens, “We are going to have a better system. It has taken a lot of time, a lot of money, a lot of effort since Cody died in my care chair for what we would have done was unnecessary. So, go veggie, Melonie, and I said let’s give this thing seven years to get passed while we show them that screenings can be done all over the state without excessive spending and save some young lives. It really is a shame. I think there are a lot of parents who have been screened through the State of Texas who have been told they need heart surgery. Some 2,000 students have been told they need to be aware of heart conditions that could endanger, now at least they have some knowledge of it and can act on it.

Collision on I-10 bridge flips car, kills 4 year old child

The accident occurred Wednesday morning about 7:00 am according to authorities. A semi and a sedan collided in a wooded laneway. Sheriff Ed Gonzalez immediately responded to the accident scene. The investigation showed that one of the vehicles somehow tried to merge into the lane with the other occupants in the vehicle let loose the emergency brake and went out of control. The vehicle hit a tree on the side of the road, flipped over. The driver was trapped, and authorities worked to extricate her from the wreckage.

Comm. Garcia proposes 1 million dollars for county-wide land trust program

HARRIS COUNTY, TX – May 31st, Commissioner Adrian Garcia has proposed to invest one million dollars in a new Land Trust pilot program that could give Harris County residents an opportunity to own a home.

On Tuesday, Commissioner Garcia requested the court discuss and approve the establishment of a Land Trust Program for Unincorporated Harris County. Under the current scenario, a Land Trust would operate as a Community Land Trust (CLT) nonprofit owned by the county and will have the ability to acquire land, including accepting land currently owned by the county. The acquired land will be sold to residents at a price that is affordable for low- and moderate-income families at market rates. The County will continue to own the land and lease it to the homeowner. In exchange for purchasing a CLT home at an affordable price, buyers agree to re-sell at a price that is affordable for future low-income owners. A likable scenario would include a 99-year lease that may be renewed and inherited by low-income owners. A likeable scenario would include a 99-year lease that may be renewed and inherited by low-income owners. The acquired land will be set aside for homeownership accessible to those who may not be able to do it otherwise, said Commissioner Garcia.

“One of the most significant driving factors of gentrification in Harris County is the cost of land. In perpetuity,” said Commissioner Garcia.

Galena Park ISD (GPISD) Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Angi Williams, hosted a luncheon for the members of the Superintendent’s Student Advisory Board (SAB). This yearly luncheon is a small appreciation for the young men and women who provide valuable input to the district. Throughout the school year, 25 high school students gather at the Administration Building to bring their unique perspective on issues related to student performance, safety and security and dropout prevention; in addition to providing feedback, the board members perform community service projects, create an education portfolio and complete an annual book study. The members of SAB have demonstrated hard work, initiative and an admirable commitment to making Galena Park ISD the best it can be, and they are setting an outstanding example for their peers. Their insight is invaluable in providing excellent, data-driven information to the best education possible.

We would like to congratulate our two Student Advisory Board scholarship winners, Iman Davis from North Shore Senior High School and Jasmine Montemayor from Galena Park High School. Galena Park ISD and Dr. Williams would like to thank the Student Advisory Board for their leadership and service this year.

Second-grade students at Harvey Brown Elementary accepted a reading challenge for the 2018-2019 school year. In an effort to motivate students and boost the reading skills throughout the grade level, East Houston Empowerment Council and Changing Young Children’s Lives through Education (CYCLE), joined forces to reward Channelview ISD students with bikes and helmets for reaching their literacy goals.

The CYCLE program was designed to ensure success for all participating students. Stakeholders joined forces as teachers, parents, and students collaborated to create personalized goals. At the conclusion of the goal-setting process, students signed a contract, making a commitment to work hard to achieve their goals. “The Channelview Independent School District believes in the power of teamwork and collaboration,” said Superintendent Greg Ollis. “When parents, community, and schools come together to celebrate academic success, students always win!”

The Harvey Brown Elementary School Library was filled with bicycles donated by Changing Young Children’s Lives through Education (CYCLE). CYCLE inspires thousands of children at Title One schools in the Greater Houston area to improve their literacy skills and achieve in the classroom. In April, the organization gifted 150 bikes to deserving students.

Senate approves constitutional prohibition on income tax

(Austin) Voters could decide whether the state collects any personal income tax as early as 2023, under a measure approved by the Senate late Monday. The move lacks any mandatory language that the major drivers of the state’s economic success, said bill sponsor and Senate Majority Leader参议员Dominic iht 2.

People move to Texas, and they stay for life because they can make a living here for themselves and their families,” he said. “A big part of that success is that they believe in Texas. And so, our burden is to keep Texas a place where they can make a living for themselves and their families.”

According to the fiscal analyst’s office of the Legislative Budget Board, the ballot could open the door to legal challenges of the franchise tax. “The term ‘individual’ is not defined and could be interpreted to include entities that are currently subject to the franchise tax,” a road map for lawmakers who will craft the ballot measure. “There are plans in state law that use the term ‘individual’ in other provisions that could be interpreted to include entities that are currently subject to the franchise tax.”

In response, Fallon emphasized that his legislation would provide a way for the state constitution explicitly prohibits a personal income tax, but it’s not sufficiently defined to the point where there aren’t lawyers who could find an interpretation that allowed for anything other than a single person being taxed. “More than that, the text of the amendment does not apply to the franchise tax,” she said. “The franchise tax is not a tax on personal income tax.”

Fallon said voters who are interested in the franchise tax could find a way to oppose it in the future.

Despite the potential to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot, however, many voters who are currently opposed to a personal income tax believe it could still become law. “The legislative intent of the amendment is that the state constitution explicitly prohibits a personal income tax, but it’s not sufficiently defined to the point where there aren’t lawyers who could find an interpretation that allowed for anything other than a single person being taxed.”

Moore receives James Becker Thompson award

Kendricka (Kiki) Moore, special education teacher and department head at Goose Creek Memorial High School, has been selected as the James Becker Thompson Special Education Teacher of the Year for 2018-2019. The 44th recipient, Moore joins the group of excellent teachers chosen for the award, established by Dr. Richard Thomson, a retired ophthalmologist, in honor of his late brother James, who benefited from special education services.

Moore received her associate degree in Criminal Justice from Colorado Tech while working as a paraprofessional at Ross S. Sterling High School for the Therapeutic Behavior Center. As a result of her work with students, she decided to get her bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice as well as her special education certification. In December 2018, she received her master’s degree from Lamar University.

Besides her work as a behavior support teacher for the past four years, Moore coaches freshman girls basketball and track. “I like that my job requires me to build a rapport with my students, and it gives me a chance to know a little about their background, so that when they’re upset it allows me to calm them down and get them back on track to continue their education in the school setting,” Moore said.

In 2018, Moores hosted the 44th recipient of the James Becker Thompson Special Education Teacher of the Year Award.
Diamond Jim: "What is the 'Shirley Temple' diamond?"

The Shirley Temple Blue Diamond

(Courtesy of National Ancestral New York—The Shirley Temple Blue Diamond failed to sell at auction in 2014, but now it’s found a new life.

The actress’ father purchased the cushion-shaped fancy deep blue diamond, weighing 5.54 carats with VS2 clarity, in 1960 to commemorate the 50-year-old’s latest film, “The Blue Bird.” He owned the ring until her death in 2014. Her family put the diamond up for sale at Sotheby’s April 2014 jewelry auction in New York, where it was projected to garner between $50 million and $100 million, though it didn’t find a buyer.

That’s when Windsor Jewelers stepped in. The antique dealer bought the stone from Temple’s family but decided to make an investment in the stone by passing it on the market.

“We searched it to make sure of the best color in the world, the potential for it to go international,” explained Windsor President Paul Lubelczyk.

Cutting the stone, and slightly lowering the weight in the process, was not a decision taken lightly.

“Polishing such an important diamond involves a group of skilled and experienced workers,” according to Windsor Jewelers’ Principal Art Petiot said. “The stone was thoroughly studied by the cutter, and we worked with him for weeks before deciding to put this very rare diamond on the wheel.”

“The color of a blue diamond, and in some cases, quality, can be dramatically changed even with the slightest movement. We ultimately decided to go ahead and re-polish the stone to try and improve the clarity.”

What Fattal described involved several tasks and consultations with the Gemological Institute of America resulted in not only an internally flawless stone—now weighing 3.53 carats—but one person.

During the May Board of Trustees meeting, Galena Park ISD (GPISD) recognized Elena Rodriguez for being an exceptional volunteer at Cloverleaf Elementary School.

Mrs. Rodriguez has served as a volunteer at Cloverleaf Elementary for 11 years. She has completed over 350 volunteer hours on tasks such as laminating, cutting, assembling bulletin boards, cooking for countless events and assisting the school counselor with various tasks.

“Mrs. Rodriguez serves humbly without expecting anything in return and always has a positive attitude and smile,” Mr. Garcia, Cloverleaf Elementary counselor, said. Mrs. Rodriguez’s time and efforts in support of Cloverleaf Elementary School are very much appreciated and valued.
